Just as all Moslems feel obligated to journey to the Holy City in their lifetimes, so should all radio amateurs journey to the City of Amateur Radio festivities - Dayton! CQ, QST, 73, and all of the other ham radio rags have touted the glories of this annual "happening", and all I can say after having made the trip, it wasn't simple puffery! Electron pushers from all over the world drop by, and bargains are there for the asking. Will I fight the maddening throngs next year...you betcha! And next time I'll even take some cash so those deals won't get away.

In this issue of the "Centurion" I have included information from the Board of Directors, a list of the awards that have been announced, and a repeat from a past issue on a form which might be of benefit in operating on the Century Club. A hunting trip that Header O. Dyne and Hattie Roe Dyne took last Fall is related in Message from Megalopolis, as well as a few other items which will be included as space permits.

On another matter, I have been putting off increasing the cost of subscriptions to the "Centurion", putting it out at cost. Cost of paper over the years has gone up, though, and with the recent increase in postage it is probable we will have to institute a small increase in subscription rates. You'll receive ample notice...just wanted for forewarn.

Message from Megalopolis

Last Fall Header made the mistake to telling Hattie he was going to go deer hunting with his nephew, Sooper, without making sure first that Hattie had a conflicting activity. Now Hattie had never gone hunting before but without bating an eye, she demanded to go along and allowed that she would, in fact, kill the first deer if Header would just tell he what one looked like!

Predawn of the first day of deer season found Header claiming that the chartrreuse hot pants Hattie was wearing would not do...she'd scare off anything what wasn't blind or dead. Hattie's reply was simple - camouflages! She'd heard that green clothing was needed so as to blend into the scenery. She further elaborated that if Header's brains were dynamite, he couldn't blow his nose, else he would have known about that already. Later, in the woods...

"Now Hattie, I wantcha to stay right here and wait fer the deer to come awalkin' down this path. If ya' see somethin' with four legs, jist draw down and let 'er rip, but be careful as they is other folks around here who might take exception to havin' hot lead come their way!"

No sooner had Header walked over the top of the hill when he heard, BLAMI BLAMI BLAMI He ran back over to where Hattie was supposed to be and found her gone. However, an argument down in the gully got his attention so he hurried on over.

Header was mortified and his breath came is wheezes when he saw Hattie standing next to a game warden yelling, "It's mine! It's mine! You ain't takin' it, it's mine! I shot it!"

About fed up, the game warden replied, "OK, lady, you can have it...just let me take my saddle off!"
